

Test and Rebuild

Posting Re-generation: This process is used when the posting effects of the Transactions needs to change. It should be done when the expenses/income account code of sales/purchase or any other transactions which affects accounts are changed. This will delete the transactions from the account and then recreated according to the posting configuration.

